Best Antioxidant Protection: Marine + Vine Tahitian Oil

This Tahitian oil isn't only perfect because of its tropical, beachy scent. It features a blend of kukui, macadamia, and passion fruit oils that are rich in antioxidants, vitamins, and fatty acids—meaning it goes to work to both repair your skin and protect it.

7 sustainable beauty brands by Latinx entrepreneurs

Chilean-American business attorney turned eco pioneer Evelyn Ginossi created the clean body care company, Marine + Vine. The idea for the collection crystallized while she was vacationing in the Mediterranean. The products continue to be influenced by her global explorations. Currently, the brand offers body oils and balm that transport customers' ambiance to Tahiti.

Janene's Nighttime Beauty Routine RITUAL

"After I shower at night, I often spray on this potent skin-nourishing body oil... I love the satin finish. Based on ancient traditions, it's carefully blended Tahitian Monoi with the perfect balance of kukui, macadamia, and passion fruit oils that really make my skin look luminous when I wake. The light, tropical floral fragrance takes me back to my last summer vaca, and falling asleep with it on gives me the sweetest dreams. Paradise found!"

Brands that boast a litany of SKUs are impressive in their own right, but there's something to admire about a brand that pares its focus down to a few select products. Such is the case with Marine + Vine, which makes just one product: Tahitian Oil (truly crafted to perfection). The skin-nourishing oil — which is perfect for post-shower, post-beach, or whenever — is a heavenly blend of kukui, macadamia, coconut, and passion fruit oils along with palm butter and gardenia flower extract.

Perfect Nighttime Skincare with Yuyu Zhangzou

Step 5: You should keep your skin protected. I use the Body Oil from Marine + Vine.

The final step in my night routine is body oil. I'm very fussy when it comes to my skin. I want to keep it looking its best, so I need to keep it hydrated. After taking a shower, I try to put on Marine + Vine's Body Oil as soon as I can to avoid any damage from dryness and keep the body's natural moisture. This oil is very easy to apply, just 30 seconds and you're done! So it's also good for people who think it's a hassle to put on a body oil or moisturizer after the shower. I also really love the packaging, it's so eye-catching!
